4-Power Meeting Is Mooted

ROME, Aug. 26.—An exchange of communications by Puchner Hitler and Premier Mussolini through their ambassadors in Rome and Berlin was disclosed today.

The German ambassador, Georg von Mackensen, delivered the first message, which he had received from Hitler by telephone, at 3 p.m. yesterday. Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano of Italy accompanied him to Mussolini's office in the Palazzo Venezia.

Mussolini replied immediately and his answer was delivered to Hitler at 6:00 p.m. by Bernardo Attolico, Italian ambassador in Berlin.

Finally, at 9:00 p.m. a second telephone communication from Hitler was delivered to Mussolini by von Mackensen.

Nothing was divulged as to what words were exchanged between the two partners in the Rome-Berlin military alliance.

LATEST INTENTIONS

In foreign circles, it was believed Hitler must have decided on a final list of his latest intentions, and Italy's Duce replied with his decision.

[Havas News Agency quoted informed circles in Rome as expressing belief that Premier Mussolini had succeeded in obtaining Hitler's consent to a four-power conference on Danzig. The four powers involved were not named.]

Some diplomats speculated, without confirmation, that the proposal which Hitler was reported to have sent to Great Britain provided:

- 1.—Return of Danzig to Germany.
- 2.—A motor highway across Prussia to the Baltic.
- 3.—Creation of a free port at Danzig for Polish traffic.
- 4.—German guarantee of Poland's frontiers, with a 10-year non-aggression pact.
- 5.—Negotiations with Britain for return of Germany's pre-war colonies, with a 25-year non-aggression pact between Britain and Germany.

JAPANESE SLAP N A Z I S; POLITE TO BRITONS NOW

SHANGHAI, Aug. 26.—Japanese entries have started slapping Germans and are now polite to British subjects as a result of the signing of the German-Soviet non-aggression pact.

The slapping incidents occurred at Tientsin, where Germans were not permitted to cross the customs barriers around the British and French concessions. Numerous Germans have been slapped in the past.

Japanese entries at the gates of the international settlement now salute British policemen.

Dominic [Japanese] news agency announced that traffic between the Chinese city and the French concession at Hankow has been freed of restrictions which had been in effect for 10 months.

White Is Facing Charge Of Murder

Poles Faintly Think War Is Averted In Roosevelt's Pleading

SPECIAL CALL BY FRANCIS STEVENS
Staff Writer Free Press and Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—If ever a man hated himself I do at this moment for leaving Warsaw at a time when that city is the hub of world interest, but my departure was taken on the advice of the British consul there, who doubted my ability to reach London before September 1 if war broke out, and pointed out that there was every possibility of my being unable to get out in that event and unable to send out any messages.

The eleventh hour appeal of President Roosevelt in an effort to avert hostilities has cheered Polish hearts and awakened a faint hope that war may be averted, although officials of the Polish foreign office asked me how it was possible to negotiate with a man who stipulated in advance that he would not discuss his orders first in his own mind.

On Thursday the advice of the Polish government to stop up on food stocks caused a food shortage. Those who had their orders first laid in tremendous supplies with the result that many latecomers were turned away.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The Polish government will send its reply to Adolf Hitler's reported peace offer to Berlin tomorrow. It was disclosed tonight as the cabinet met in emergency session to draft the answer. The cabinet met into session at 6:30 p.m. (11:30 a.m. M.S.T.).

Portions of Canada Militia Called Out On Voluntary Basis

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Canada mobilized her defence forces last night in anticipation of a national emergency. Volunteers from the non-permanent militia were called to the colors to aid the small permanent forces in coastal defence and guarding vulnerable points from possible sabotage.

The call for volunteers, issued by Defence Minister Mackenzie, was not compulsory, he stressed, but was purely a precautionary step.

Earlier, the defence minister had ordered Royal Canadian Air Force units to be in readiness to move to war stations at various parts of the Dominion if required.

ALL LEAVE CANCELLED
All leave for members of Canada's permanent defence forces was cancelled Friday.

Two days ago Mr. Mackenzie announced his department had complete plans in readiness for the protection of the security of the Canadian people from enemies both without and within.

Canada's military comprises about 100,000 men.

Mr. Mackenzie scheduled a full morning of conferences on war measures. Officials said that, for the time, he did not contemplate any further moves designed to strengthen the defence forces.

State Secretary Cordell Hull said at his press conference, meanwhile, that he had received no tangible information regarding the proposal which Hitler had made to be made for a settlement with Poland.

Canal Guarded
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 26.—Volunteers from the Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury regiments today mounted guard at the Canadian ship canal on the international railway bridge here. Lieut. Col. W. P. Vout, officer commanding the action, said it was a "precautionary measure."

Halifax Harbor Facilities Are Being Guarded
HALIFAX, Aug. 26.—Officers and other ranks of four Halifax military units were called out early today to guard for duty mounting.

A recruiting station for the Dominion Canadian artillery was opened this morning at South Westport, N.S., where it was reported to be no security of volunteers.

WHEAT PRICES CONTINUE DIP AT WINNEPEG

WINNEPEG, Aug. 26.—Wheat futures prices continued their tumble on the Winnipeg grain exchange today. General selling easily submerged light buying support early in the short session and quotations finished the day 15 1/2 cents down despite a gallant effort to boost them following the opening weakness.

Weakness at Liverpool and a report that Puchner Hitler had offered a peace plan which might bring about a settlement of the war in Europe precipitated a flood of selling orders soon after the opening bell. Prices crashed sharply until resting orders made their appearance and offerings thinned out.

Stop All the Profiteers!

There must be no profiteering in Canada if war is declared. Men who may go into the trenches offer their lives to defend a nation's cause. Business leaders of Canada must not be granted any sinister preference which would allow them to strike a profit out of war. To give them any such guarantee of profits would be a blasphemy.

Mr. Mackenzie King has promised there would be no profiteering. Speaking in the House of Commons, March 30, 1939, the prime minister bluntly declared: "In a war to save the liberty of others and our own, we should not sacrifice our own liberty or our own unity. Planning and co-ordination would be essential, but the necessary co-ordination could be made, and if this government were in power it would be made, without sacrificing those vital ends and conditions of our existence. Profits could and would be rigidly controlled, and profiteering suppressed."

Dr. Manion, though a vocal leader, in the same debate on said: "There should be no profiteering in war." Again, later in his speech, he declared: "One closing thought which I have expressed before is this. If we ever again have to participate in any war, all our citizens, whether in the line or at home, must give their services to this country on the same basis; so that while some offer their lives, others must not be permitted to enrich themselves through the tragedy of war."

Canada will hold them to their pledges. The morale of this country would be shattered, were profiteering to be tolerated if war should come.

The Tragedy Of It All

For most Canadians, the unrest in Europe has meant that their thoughts have suddenly been snatched from the quiet security of life in this dominion to the hate-filled atmosphere of a continent oppressed by fear of war. We are spectators of what is going on in Europe. We will be implicated if war breaks out, but until that fearful choice is made, all we can do is helplessly watch what is happening.

It is that feeling of numb, impotent helplessness that gnaws so bitterly at the minds of Canadians. Events thousands of miles distant over which Canada has no control may change the lives and fortunes of everyone. As an interested world, we made all states live in one neighborhood, but as long as one nation refuses to be a good neighbor, security is present for no one, not even for so sheltered a nation like Canada.

Canadians, in this beautiful season, have been planning a happy holiday, quiet visits to friends, the joy of sport, the undisturbed felicity of home life, all the normal lovable things that they know as their own in this glorious land. They all surely join in the devout prayer that an honorable peace may yet be had in Europe, and that their own happiness will neither be disturbed by war nor the right of other nations unjustly attacked.

Would a Conference Help?

The air is loud with talk that the crisis may be lifted if a conference can be called to settle the dispute. Naturally, such a course is infinitely preferable to the desperate arbitrament of war, but arbitration can succeed only if certain conditions are observed.

These conditions are succinctly stated by President Roosevelt in his message to Hitler. The price of any peace conference between Germany and Poland is that Hitler recognize "the independence and territorial integrity" of Poland. Put more plainly, this means that Poland is not to be cut up by another Munich agreement, and that the terms of surrender in the crisis could have been settled long ago. All that was needed was the retreat of Britain and France before Hitler's challenge and the repudiation of their pledges.

But if Poland, unconcerned, does agree to such a conference—indeed, the United States, if invited, would take part according to the promise of its President—the whole matter would then appear in a different light, and it would be foolishly to reject this slight chance to avert war.

German news stories show that Reich expected the zero hour to have been passed by this time. The only thing which has delayed the declaration of war, even thus far, is the fact that Britain, France and Poland. The single chance of having any conference secure an honorable peace, and not the dictated dismemberment of Poland, is to make it plain that any arbitration talks are in response to the genuine love of peace felt by Britain and France, and not from any fear of war. The first sign of wavering will be Hitler's signal to strike.

Germany's "Lightning War" Theory

Germany's rulers, long before the advent of Hitler, believed their country could win a war by a swift and paralyzing stroke of lightning aggression. Austria was crushed by Prussia in seven weeks in 1866. France was prostrated in two months in the cruel war of 1870. Germany went on a relentless advance into Paris in the Great War, and her plans on that basis, and might have succeeded had it not been for the Battle of the Marne in September, 1914.

Hitler rests his faith upon a short, terrible war which Germany would win, for he knows that a long struggle would allow the anger and many elements of the population, including the suppressed Czechs, to find vent against his repressive rule. Last September Goering told his air fleet that the Czech people could be crushed as if in an inferno by one shattering blow. Hitler warns Poland the same fate now awaits her.

Is Germany right? Can Britain and France do anything to help Poland? This question was first discussed when the debate in the British House of Commons took place on the pledge to defend Poland.

Lloyd George charged the pledge was a mockery unless Russia was the ally of Poland. He said it would take a million men and one year to break through the Siegfried Line Germany has erected on her western border. Admitting that the way to get around this obstacle was to fly over the fortifications, Lloyd George argued that Germany was aware of such tactics and had anti-aircraft guns.

A significant interruption took place when Mrs. Bellingham, a Conservative, remarked: "Germany has as many of those guns as you or I may sometimes have imagined." In other words, Germany's reliance on the efficacy of her own aggression has been so great she may not have paid sufficient attention to the adequate precautions that might have been taken by her from two great powers like Britain and France aroused to a counter-stroke of retaliation. Besides, no major war has ever been fought on German soil. Berlin has never been shelled, a danger Paris faces in the Great War, and it would be a new and not altogether happy experience for the Reich. Britain and France, at any rate, can weaken Germany's drive on Poland by engaging her on the western front.

Poland has a great military tradition. She once helped save Europe from being overtaken by the world of Jell. She stopped Communism from running wild over Europe after the war by her heroic battle almost beneath the walls of Warsaw. She surprised Russia then. She may surprise Germany now. The protection of Britain and France, even though there are still sufficient geographical barriers to be overcome, is not a matter of slight significance.

Comparisons of the mere numerical strength of Germany's and Poland's standing armies do not tell the whole story. As every war crisis breaks out, the two nations are immediately prepared to be "military experts" and plot out a nation's destiny on a military map. Usually, their prophecies are an adventure in error. Spain was supposed to be crushed by air attacks overnight, yet the war against the government army dragged on for many, many months after all the experts had "proved" Franco must win in a fortnight. The same thing happened in China, where even ruthless Japanese terrorism had not cowed a huge but virtually unarmed nation. When a people is fighting for its life and liberty, it performs feats of valor that cannot be plotted on the chart of any expert's prognostications.

Liddell Hart, the famous British military expert, is not very enthusiastic about Poland's chances, though even he says Poland has a better chance to stand up against Germany than did Czechoslovakia. But the central thesis he has stated in several recent books is that in modern warfare an aggressor can only succeed, if he invades another territory, provided his attacking force has a ratio of 3-1 as compared with the defensive forces opposed to him. That is the ratio Germany must satisfy if the "lightning theory" is not to collapse, as it probably would, in utter and ignominious failure.

"Administrative government is democracy's way of dealing with the over-complicated social and economic problems of today—William O. Douglas.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

To one who tries to live up to the three ideals of the Oxford Group movement with the theology and metaphysics left out, it's hard to address a correspondent as "Dear" Somebody for whom you feel no endearment, or may even end in despair. So many courtesy phrases have assumed a meaning for them from their illiteracy. "SINCE IT MUST BE SO—" The Japanese have carried it to its extreme in the perfumed cadences of everyday polite speech. The Japanese who wishes to see another on any business or other matter says, "Omeki Kakarintai." Literally, "I beg permission to hang my image on your honorable eye."

He has a much more elaborate method than we of saying, "Pardon me, for my trifling breach of etiquette. He says, 'Omino dokui kama.' 'Ki' means spirit or soul, 'doku' means poison. The phrase literally is, 'I have poisoned your innermost soul.'"

Order a hot dog with mustard in a Japanese house, and the waiter doesn't say, "O.K. brother." He replies, "Kaki-kami-kamobita." Literally, "I have forgotten the essence of etiquette."

"Sayonara" (high-yo-nahara) the Japanese word for goodbye is said by philologists to be the most beautiful goodbye word in any language. It is of lingering beauty, mean, "Since it must be so, adieu."

There are people in China who will be very happy when they hear the Japanese soldier waving them "Sayonara."

Chinese too are people of great courtesy and propriety—less unrestrained and probably more sincere than the Japanese. A Festival of the New Life Movement is being held in Chungking. Along with lots of war propaganda to stiffen the spirit of the Chinese people are evidences of a changing China.

WE NEED SOME American kitchen and a modern bathroom. Thrift, courtesy, righteousness and politeness are the four principles of the New Life movement. Thrift is a cardinal virtue in China, though it is not so much in vogue in Canada. How beneficial to Canada and many another nation would be a New Life movement, promoting principles of thrift, courtesy, righteousness and propriety.

Different people bring back different things from Russia. The oddest thus far is a human skull from Siberia, that Dr. Hrdlicka of the Smithsonian Institute is bringing from Moscow. He regards it of great importance to the scientific world because the braincase is that of an Algonquin Indian. The scientist POOR YODIST think it clinches the theory that the American Indian migrated to North America from Asia. Dr. Hrdlicka was so pleased with his find, that he sat with the skull by his side, grinning at the other passengers with its eyeless sockets, all the way from Siberia to Moscow. The scientific lure is strong to decipher ancient mysteries. Would that our best brains could get together to find a solution for the unemployment problem of today.

Religion Day By Day

By WILLIAM T. KELLS

AS DADDY USED TO DO Over in the green bow of Canadian camp, where the twin beds taken from our boy's room at home, I came upon a scene that stirred memories and pondering. Liddy, Dicky, who is the perfect image of his father at the same age, was doing acrobatics on his mattress, just as his father did a generation ago, on the same bed.

As I stood in that doorway in Canada, I seemed to hear voices of long ago. "But the boys will ruin your nice beds by jumping up and down on them, and playing 'tag' on them." And Milda's quiver was saying, "Beds are cheaper than boys."

Now the cycle has swung full-orbed. The beds were not ruined; and are still gymnasium apparatus for Deborah and Dicky. Life has been renewed in another generation; and the spears through the new. The life of life carries on, and we witness the marvel of earthly immortality.

We thank Thee, O God, for a chance to live again, in our children and children's children. May all that we have given be as good as we see that all Thee has given us has been good. Amen.

Canada's Comment on Crises

By FRED WILLIAMS

THE terms of the German-Soviet pact published today confirm the worst fears expressed since news of the negotiations was first announced. The terms of the treaty triumphantly signed by von Ribbentrop and Molotov seem to have placed Russian neutrality in the event of a war over Poland, but may forebode active Russian participation in the spoils which the Nazis hope secure at their disposal.

Meanwhile the Nazis have replied in explicit terms to the British warning that the Peace Front policy will be honored if aggression takes place. The reply is that Germany refuses to renounce the pursuit of her vital national interests. There is no official definition of what these interests are, but last April Hitler's Reichstag speech contained the illuminating passage:

"The present German Reich contains no territory which was not from the earliest times a part of the Reich, not bound up with it or subject to its sovereignty. Long before an American Continent had been discovered—say of settled-by white people, this Reich existed, not merely in its present extent, but with the addition of many regions and provinces which have since been lost."

This is the Lebensraum, living space, theory of the Reich. It reaches far beyond the relatively narrow limits of German blood and race. It embraces in its grip the whole of the historic Holy Roman Empire, that loose, shifting congeries of states which at one time or another included all of Europe. It is clear that Hitler, in his most recent terms to Poland, has this in mind. It will be recalled that he said:

"There is no time, so far of political activities, to say of settled-by white people, this Reich existed, not merely in its present extent, but with the addition of many regions and provinces which have since been lost."

There is no time, so far of political activities, to say of settled-by white people, this Reich existed, not merely in its present extent, but with the addition of many regions and provinces which have since been lost."

Woman Strangles When Throat Jams In Neck Toy Swan

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Harold Gerson, 26-year-old mother of three children, was found dead on the floor of her bedroom Friday morning, having choked to death on a toy swan.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by strangulation.

The tragedy was discovered by her seven-year-old daughter, Dorothy Jean. The girl told police that as she awakened and discovered her mother was not in bed she heard a "gurgling" sound.

"Her neck tilted right into the swan's, so tightly I couldn't pull it out," a neighbor said. "Finally I had to break the swan to release her. It took me about half an hour to get her to the hospital where she died."

There was a kitchen chair across her lower limbs.

Appeasement Again

By DR. H. L. STEWART

Professor of Philosophy, Dalhousie University, and Editor of Dalhousie Review.

There are terms which long familiarity has made into "household words," phrases which have passed into the rank of the motto or the slogan. About others it cannot be said that the more we know of them, the better we like them; rather the reverse. They have come, through experience, to rouse ideas like some of the friends of Thomas a Kempis, about whom we were told, the less they could be known, the better.

To which class does "Appeasement" belong?

It came to us, at first, with a very soothing, and a very promising, appeal. But for the last year and a half, ever since Premier Neville Chamberlain brushed Mr. Anthony Eden aside as a rash young man who did not understand that he should conciliate rather than exasperate in international diplomacy, we have watched the method of appeasement yield results ever worse and worse. The appetite of the dictators, which was this to be sated, seems rather to have grown by what it has been fed.

Mr. Chamberlain may have been right in that dispute with Mr. Eden, although the things Mr. Eden predicted as sequel to the change of policy have come true, and the things Mr. Chamberlain predicted have not come true. Perhaps this was just an accident; perhaps the evidence the Prime Minister had in March, 1938, it was good judgment to conclude that Hitler and Mussolini, if "appeased" with concessions, would be faithful to that which the concessions had led them to promise. But those who guessed the other way must now be allowed to think that they had something substantial to go upon. My reason for recalling this episode, and its outcome, is that another episode, not unlike it, seems to be in preparation.

I mean, for the moment not the conciliating of Hitler, but the conciliating of Japan.

Those conversations, meant to abate the violence of feeling between British and Japanese over the Tientsin affair, have passed into a stage at which that affair is only an illustrative trifle. Japan insists that Great Britain shall acquiesce in and even co-operate with her schemes for a new order in China.

That is, in plain English, her schemes to hold the territory she has taken from China by violence, and to extend this from time to time, at China's further expense.

Royal Pictures Adorn Walls Of Far North Office

CRAIG HARBOR, Ellesmere Island, Aug. 26.—Pictures of King George and Queen Elizabeth today hung in the post office here, the most northerly post office in the world, some 600 miles from the North Pole. The photographs were autographed by their Majesties when in Ottawa last May on the Canadian tour.

On Aug. 12, the ice-breaker Nascopie, carrying the eastern Arctic patrol, reached the harbor and found it filled with grounded bergs and pack ice. Mounted police stationed at Craig Harbor reached the ship on sea across the pack ice and Major McKeand gave them the photographs.

We should not prematurely judge, from a long distance, an issue such as this. But it illustrates the peril of that "Appeasement" policy to which I referred at the beginning. To pacify an unscrupulous enemy by concession far beyond what is fair (worth of all when it is not at your own but at another's expense), is among the most dangerous devices which the "statesmanship" of our time has evolved.

It is going to be tried not with Japan alone, but—once again, despite all the disillusionment of a year and a half—with Germany? One can well understand why members of parliament at Westminster, generally docile, are driving the party whips to despair.

12-Year-Old Girl Stages Gallant Recovery From Disease

By RICHARD H. SYVIG
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 26—Last for three years ago, in October, 1984, doctors shook their heads.
They believed eight-year-old Nancy Merkl would never walk again. Infantile paralysis was the reason.

The Little Swiss girl was sent to the University of Oregon Hospital in Medford, where she was operated on by Dr. Robert J. Hays, chief of the pediatric orthopedic department. The surgery was successful, but it took time for the muscles to heal. Nancy was in the hospital for three months.

Her coach thought it would be a good experience. Mrs. Merkl was opposed to the idea, but her husband and Nancy herself wanted all for it.

Mrs. Merkl finally consented and the little girl did through the

As she slowly recovered, her right leg, ankles and toes were a little stiff in the spring of 1983. It was decided that physical therapy must be the treatment—the same cure used so effectively by the doctors in Rome.

"Nancy is a wonderful little girl and a great competitor," says Jack O'Leary, "She's full of life. Her energy and unlimited vitality. Her muscles are long and flexible and she has perfect timing in her stroke."

The camp will be conducted over the holiday week-end, Sept. 2 to 4, and will be open to Scouts and Scouters from between 12 and 25 of the city's young people. Activities are expected to gather inner-city youths to participate in an outdoor program dominated by such suitable group games as campfire, flag football, and relay races. Camp arrangements and recruitment are expected to be handled as usual by the local Scout committee, headed by Scoutmaster William G. Grier, Jr., registrar. Bertha Perine, Joan Beck, Kathleen Weary, Gwendolyn Galt, Thelma Haiman, Margaret Sennell, Bob Thompson and transportation director, Harold Campbell, are also expected to be involved in the temporary homes in England are being invited to join local Boy Scout troops, or special troops organized in religious camps. The Southeast Louisiana Catholic Scout Council is sending Scouts and Scouters to the camp and also invite each religious youth arriving in that area to become a member of the nearest Scout unit.

The camp will be conducted over the holiday week-end, Sept. 2 to 4, and will be open to all Scouts and representatives from business and 25 of the city's young people. Activities are expected to gather under canvas in patches of an outdoor program jammed with such reliable group diversions as camp arrangements and orienteering, sponsored by the board as a special camp committee course of Don MacKinnon, commander, Arty Wern, registrar, Bertha Perence, Joan Boston, Isabelle Welsh, Gordon Cairns, Thelma Baerman, Margaret Siedle, Bob Thompson and transportation director, Harold Campbell.

OF BLACKPOOL

OF BLACKPOOL

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A violent explosion damaged the front of the town hall of the west coast resort town of Blackpool early today 12 hours after a blast attributed by police to the Irish republican army killed four persons and injured 60 at Coventry.

No one was injured.

Police reported that before the Blackpool blast, bombs had been discovered in a dust bin in the promenade and in gardens outside

In London a special police guard was placed over government buildings after reports at Scotland Yard of an asserted I.R.A. plot to make a concerted attack on government buildings here.

The building where the explosion occurred in Conventry was believed to be an ammunition dump of the I.R.A.

Wide powers were granted the government to deal with the organization after a plot was detailed to commons which was said to have included plans by the I.R.A. to make its attacks on Britain coincide with the crisis period.

Engagements (2)
Dr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Tullis announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Tullis, to Mr. John Tullis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Tullis, of Calgary. The wedding will take place at their home, 1015 10th St. N.E., on August 25, 1938.

Marriages (3)
Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Thompson, of West Ross, Richmond, Quebec, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Thompson, to Mr. John Tullis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Tullis, of Calgary. The wedding will take place at their home, 1015 10th St. N.E., on August 25, 1938.

Deaths (4)
Mrs. Sarah McLeod, of 2547 10th St. W., widow of the late McLeod, died at her home on August 24, 1938, at the age of 84 years. She was born in Scotland and came to Canada with her family in 1880. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and was very active in church and social work. She is survived by her husband, two sons, and three daughters.

Funerals (5)
The funeral of Mrs. Sarah McLeod will be held at 10:30 a.m. on August 26, 1938, at the funeral home of Mr. J. J. McLeod, 1015 10th St. N.E. The interment will be in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Card of Thanks (6)
We want to express our sincere thanks to all those who attended the funeral of our dear mother, Mrs. Sarah McLeod, and to all those who helped us in our time of need. We are especially grateful to Mr. J. J. McLeod for his kind and efficient service.

In Memoriam (7)
In loving memory of Patricia Macdonald, who passed away on August 24, 1938, at the age of 35 years. She was a devoted mother and a kind friend. Her death is a great loss to all who loved her.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The BOBCAT.

KNOWN ALSO AS WILDCAT AND BAY LYNX, IS ONE OF THE MOST WIDELY DISTRIBUTED OF ALL AMERICAN ANIMALS. IT INHABITS WOODED AREAS IN ALMOST EVERY STATE.

THE NAME "WILDCAT" IS A FITTING TRIBUTE TO THIS TWENTY-POUND BUNDLE OF DYNAMITE. A MAN WHO CAN "WHIP HIS WEIGHT IN WILDCATS" DOES NOT EXIST. FORTUNATELY, THEY DO NOT ATTACK HUMANS.

SOMETIMES THE BOBCAT IS CONFUSED WITH THE CANADA LYNX. HOWEVER, THE ANIMALS ARE QUITE DISSIMILAR. THE BOBCAT IS MUCH SMALLER AND MORE SLENDER, AND THE EARS HAVE SHORTER TUFTS THAN THOSE OF THE LYNX.

THE TAILS, ALSO, DIFFER IN MARKINGS. (LYNX, UPPER RIGHT)

THE BOBCAT MAKES ITS HOME IN HOLLOW TREES, CAVES, OR OPENINGS IN ROCKS. AT NIGHT, IT GOES FORTH IN SEARCH OF FOOD.

SQUIRRELS, RABBITS, AICE AND OTHER SMALL GAME MAKE UP ITS MENU. IT CAN CLIMB TREES, BUT PREFERS TO HUNT ON THE GROUND.

BOBCATS FREQUENT WELL-SETTLED REGIONS... SOMETIMES VENTURING INTO FARMYARDS FOR CHICKENS, OR EVEN SMALL LAMBS.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

SURE WAS NICE OF MRS. BROWN ASKING US TO HER GARDEN PARTY, LOOK! SHE'S THERE! I'VE BEEN TRYING TO MEET HER FOR HOURS!

WE WERE LUCKY TO BE INVITED! WHAT GOOD IS IT IF YOU CAN'T MEET THE GUEST OF HONOR?

I'VE COMBED MY HAIR AND FIXED MY TIE A MILLION TIMES, HOPING MRS. BROWN WOULD INTRODUCE ME TO MISS DAWN!

BUT JUST WHEN I GET MYSELF ALL PRIMPED UP, MRS. BROWN INTRODUCES HER TO SOMEONE ELSE!

BOY, THESE STEAK SANDWICHES ARE KINDA TOUGH, AREN'T THEY? I'M NOT THINKING OF FOOD! (SIGH)

WELL, YOU'D BETTER... YOU'RE NOT GONNA GET TO MEET DOLORES, I GUESS! I GUESS NOT, OKAY THEN!

ISN'T YOUR STEAK TOUGH? I'LL SAY IT IS! YOU CAN'T BITE IT... YOU HAVE TO TEAR IT! IT WON'T STAY BETWEEN THE SLICES OF BREAD!

OH, THERE YOU ARE, FRECKLES... I'VE BEEN LOOKING ALL OVER FOR YOU!

I'D LIKE YOU TO MEET DOLORES DAWN!
